CUSTOMER UPDATES

Bank of New Zealand launches new PayClip with eftpos, contact and contactless capabilities

In May 2015, Mint announced that its partnership with Bank of New Zealand (“BNZ”) resulted in the successful deployment and enhancement of BNZ’s “PayClip” payments product, which now enables business owners in New Zealand to accept the full spectrum of card payments. The new PayClip product is a significant milestone for BNZ as it looks to position itself to take advantage of the New Zealand electronic payments market which is growing at a rapid pace.

To further cement Mint’s presence in the New Zealand payments space, Mint has entered into an aggregation agreement with Paymark. Paymark is New Zealand’s leading electronic payments provider with more than 75,000 merchants and over 110,000 EFTPOS terminals connected to its network. It is estimated that approximately two-thirds of total spending in New Zealand is done electronically using EFTPOS and credit cards, with 75% of New Zealand’s electronic transactions processed by Paymark.<sup>1</sup>

BNZ’s head of small business, Harry Ferreira commented: “PayClip has been available to our customers since September 2013, and we’ve worked closely with them to deliver even better value through compatibility with more smart devices via Bluetooth connectivity, increased payment options and contactless payment technology. Our customers tell us that PayClip has made a huge difference to their cash flow and made it easier to do business, but most importantly it has enabled them to increase their profit. PayClip enables businesses to reach new customers and therefore sell more products and services.”

New Customers

During the quarter, the Company further strengthened its sales and distribution network by entering into eight distribution agreements; this includes two significant new strategic customers and partners, Tappr and eWAY.

In June 2015, Mint entered into an agreement with Tappr Pty Ltd (“Tappr”) where Tappr will integrate its Point of Sale (“POS”) application with Mint’s “card present” payment solution to accept the full spectrum of card payments. The Tappr solution will consist of a reader, app and dashboard analytics with a view to servicing direct SME customer channels. As part of the agreement, Tappr will be required to purchase a minimum of 500 licenses and hardware from Mint upon every order made to Mint.

“Tappr’s vision is to be a market leading small business tool in the SME space by the end of 2015 replacing the traditional SME/banking relationship. Our partnership with Mint, a leading payments solution provider in Australia, will allow us to do that” Mr. Hales concluded.

The Company also entered into an agreement with eWAY where eWAY have licenced Mint’s “card present” capability to distribute their own mobile point of sale (“mPOS”) solution. eWAY’s 20,000+ merchants will now be able to accept the full spectrum of card payments. eWAY’s mPOS solution will consist of eWAY’s mobile application that is integrated with Mint’s software application (Mintegrate SDK/API) and the Mint card reader device. eWAY’s mPOS solution is designed to better service the needs of SME’s who want to improve their cash flow; with the ability to connect to a wide range of small business applications such as online accounting software for invoicing, CRM solutions such as Salesforce and online shopping carts such as Shopify for inventory.

Mint’s partnership with eWAY will provide an omni-channel payments solution across markets in Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, Hong Kong and Malaysia.

Matt Bullock, CEO of eWAY said: “Since 1998 we have been providing payment services to SMEs with a focus on simplicity and personalised customer service. 42% of all face-to-face transactions are processed using EFTPOS cards, and by using our mPOS solution, SMEs will be able to sell up to 42% more. Today’s announcement marks eWAY’s expansion into the lucrative omni-channel space by allowing our 20,000+ merchants to accept card present payments using Mint’s unique, agile and cost effective mPOS solution.”
