Axiom Mining Limited ('Axiom' or 'the Company') has completed Phase 1 of its resource definition drilling program on the Isabel Nickel Project in Solomon Islands, which has delivered excellent results including grades of over 3% and thickness of mineralisation that extends up to 20m.

Axiom CEO Mr Ryan Mount said, "The completion of 5000m of resource drilling within three months, on schedule, and the significant progress made in other areas of the project ensures we are on track for our first shipment of ore next quarter.

"Our team culture of continually securing efficiencies, even at such an early stage in the project, and our inclusive approach with local communities means we will get this project into production as scheduled and on budget.

"We have not lost one day of work on site due to safety, landowner or community issues—which is somewhat of a record in the region, and we congratulate the government and our landowner partners for their role in this."

An initial JORC Resource statement based on results from Phase 1 of the resource drilling program is due this month.

Phase 2 will commence this week and the results will further contribute to the initial JORC Resource statement.

Axiom is aiming to have the first three to five years of minable resource under JORC standards defined prior to the first shipment of ore.

The Company then aims to progressively drill and upgrade the mineralised resource throughout the life of the mine.
