SAIBT contract renewed with University of South Australia

Global education services provider Navitas Limited (ASX: NVT) is pleased to announce that the agreement with the University of South Australia for its University pathway program (SAIBT) has been renewed for 10 years to December 2025, under materially similar terms and conditions.

The relationship with the University of South Australia was established in 2001 and has provided many benefits for students, the University and Navitas.

"We are delighted to be extending our long relationship with the University of South Australia, an institution which shares our commitment to providing the highest possible standards of teaching and student support," said Navitas Group Chief Executive Officer, Rod Jones.

"The partnership has been very successful for our students, with a history of strong academic outcomes, and we look forward to continuing to provide international students with a quality pathway to the University for many years to come."

Professor David Lloyd, Vice Chancellor and President of the University of South Australia, said "we are very pleased to renew our long-standing SAIBT collaboration with Navitas and look forward to building even greater success in the future to enable more generations of students to achieve their potential through higher education study at UniSA".
