

Appointment of Non-Executive Director

Alicanto Minerals Ltd (ASX: AQI) (“Alicanto” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce that Mr Hamish Halliday has been appointed to the Board of Alicanto as a Non-Executive Director.

Mr Halliday is a Geologist with a Bachelor of Science from the University of Canterbury and has over 20 years of corporate and technical experience in the mining industry. Mr Halliday has been involved in the discovery and acquisition of numerous projects over a range of commodities throughout four continents. Mr Halliday has founded and held executive and non-executive directorships with a number of successful listed exploration companies including Venture Minerals Ltd and Adamus Resources Ltd (‘Adamus’). He was CEO of Adamus from its inception through to successful completion of a feasibility study on its gold project in Ghana which is now in production.

Commenting on the appointment of Mr Halliday, Alicanto’s Chairman Mr Didier Murcia said “We welcome Mr Halliday to the Board of Alicanto and believe he will be a valuable addition to the Company. Hamish has a proven record of exploration success and extensive international experience. He brings the Company additional corporate and technical skills which will benefit Alicanto as we accelerate our exploration activities in Guyana.”
