DAVID SAXELBY JOINS DECMIL BOARD

Decmil Group Limited (ASX: DCG) ("Decmil" or "Company") is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. David Saxelby to the Board of Directors of the Company.

David is one of the most senior executives in the Australian construction and infrastructure industry.

He has held managing director and CEO roles for the past decade, most recently with Lend Lease as CEO of Construction and Infrastructure Australia. Prior to Lend Lease, David was with the Leighton Group for 18 years, where he held a number of senior positions, most recently as Managing Director of Thiess Pty Ltd.

David has been responsible for many of Australia's iconic engineering and building projects including ANZAC Bridge, Darling Harbour Convention Centre, Lane Cove Tunnel, Epping to Chatswood Underground Rail Link and recently Australia's longest tunnel, NorthConnex.

David has held a number of senior industry positions including President and board member of Australian Constructors Association, board member of Roads Australia, board member of Infrastructure Partnership Australia and board member of Minerals Council of Australia, and has been listed in the Top 100 Engineers in Australia for the past four years.

In addition to his Board role, David will also act as a strategy and relationship advisor to the Group. David has deep and long term relationships with many leaders in the construction and infrastructure sectors, and will help accelerate Decmil's strategy development and growth into the NSW and Victorian markets.

Decmil Chairman, Mr. Bill Healy, said:

"We are delighted to have a person of the calibre of David join Decmil at a time when we are looking to grow our business and increase our exposure to major upcoming infrastructure projects in New South Wales and Victoria.

"David's substantial experience and contacts will be invaluable to the business as we grow our national footprint and customer base."
