Resignation of CFO

Wednesday 21 September, 2016: Vocus Communications (ASX:VOC) (Vocus) today announces that its Chief Financial Officer (CFO) Rick Correll has tendered his resignation from the Company. Mr Correll has agreed to remain with Vocus for the next few months while an internal and external search for his successor is undertaken.

Chairman of Vocus David Spence said, "Rick has been with the Company since the early days and on behalf of the Board I would like to thank him for the enormous contribution he has made to building Vocus into the business it is today. His contribution has been instrumental in creating a strong business platform with significant growth opportunities in its core target markets, well positioned to continue to generate excellent returns to shareholders.

CEO of Vocus Geoff Horth said "I would like to add my thanks to Rick for assisting us with the transition in the business that has occurred since the M2 merger. We have commenced a search for a replacement and I look forward to working with Rick through a smooth transition process."
