Dear Sir / Madam

FEDERAL COURT OF AUSTRALIA PUBLISHES DECISION IN RELATION TO AUSTRALIAN ENERGY REGULATOR V AUSTRALIAN COMPETITION TRIBUNAL

Spark Infrastructure notes that the Federal Court of Australia has today published its decision in relation to the Australian Energy Regulator (AER) v Australian Competition Tribunal (ACT).

The matter relates to certain disputed appeals between the AER and the NSW electricity distribution businesses Ausgrid, Endeavour Energy and Essential Energy. The decision is available at fedcourt.gov.au.

On a separate matter, Spark Infrastructure notes that the ACT has once again extended its deadline for the publication of its decisions in relation to appeals lodged with it by Victorian Power Networks. The new expected date of publication is 21 August 2017.

Spark Infrastructure reaffirmed its distribution guidance for 2017 and 2018, of 15.25 cents per security (cps) and 16.0 cps respectively, at its Annual General Meeting held Tuesday 23 May 2017. This distribution guidance is not contingent on the outcomes of any appeal matters.

Yours faithfully,
