InvestorInfo Limited (ASX:INV) today announced it will undertake a pro rata renounceable rights issue to raise approximately $3,600,000.

All existing shareholders (other than shareholders having an address in a country other than Australia and New Zealand) will be offered an entitlement in the ratio of 1 new ordinary shares for every 1 existing ordinary share, at an issue price of 6.7 cents per share.

The rights issue will be fully underwritten by Mr Anthony K. D. Young, a director and a substantial shareholder of INV. Mr Young and his associates have undertaken to take up their full entitlement under the issue.

The proceeds of the rights issue will be used by INV to fund future acquisition or investment opportunities consistent with INV's growth and diversification strategy.

INV continues to focus on the organic growth of its financial services operations, with titles presently including IFA, Investor Weekly, Investor Daily and Master Funds Quarterly and its conferencing division, IC&C.

INV has previously announced its strategy of profitable growth by way of a diversification strategy both within the financial services and media industry and elsewhere.

This diversification strategy will involve:

- The development and growth of INV's existing compliment of titles and other business units;
- The acquisition of profitable titles or businesses that will either expand INV's current financial/media specialization or diversify the sectors serviced and investments undertaken by the company; and
- The investment in companies involved in the financial services or media industries.

Mr Osborne, the company's managing director, said:

“InvestorInfo has been looking at a number of acquisition opportunities consistent with its growth strategy. This raising will show the market the seriousness with which we intend to follow up on it.

I am confident that the capital raised in this issue will enhance INV's business and I look forward to shareholder's continued support."
